GREEN hosting VegaSystems

Sustainable web hosting – from professionals for professionals!

Every company that offers its services on the Internet needs powerful, highly secure and fast web hosting in order to be successful.

The climate-friendly web hosting products from VegaSystems are the ideal platform for this.

Information security according to the highest global standards

The operation of our Tier3+ data centers is certified by TÜV Rheinland according to the international security standard ISO 27001. We therefore offer you web hosting products with the highest level of information security, the same applies to server housing, cloud or email products.

IT security – made in Germany is something we live by, which is why we have been awarded the TeleTrusT trust mark by the Federal IT Security Association.

Our data centers are located exclusively in Germany and are subject to the GDPR. Through partnerships with the BSI and Cert-BUND as well as the Alliance for Cyber Security, we are right in the middle of IT security, rather than just there.

Climate-friendly and sustainable web hosting

Web hosting is energy intensive, the servers run around the clock. For this reason, we are an active part of the energy transition and as a company generate our own green electricity through our photovoltaic systems.

In addition, we use valuable green electricity as efficiently as possible. The waste heat generated by the web hosting servers is recovered in a climate-friendly manner and heats offices in adjacent buildings.

We operate circular hardware processes, which are defined depending on the age of the premium servers. After about 9 years, our web hosting servers are finally taken out of operation and sent for recycling processes.

We were awarded the Paderborn Sust Award 2023 due to our sustainable economic processes. Benefit from our sustainable circular economic cycles.
